that higher grade position upon demobilization. If the officer, upon demobilization, declines or is unwilling or unable to occupy the higher grade position to which he/she was matched, the officer will be given 180 days to be assigned to another higher grade position or be reassigned to the Individual Ready Reserve (IRR). Mobilized Army Reserve TPU and IMA officers who are on an approved mandatory promotion selection list will be promoted when reaching their maximum time in grade regardless of being matched or assigned to a vacant position of the next higher grade. Upon demobilization, the officer will be given 180 days to be assigned to a higher grade position or will be reassigned to the IRR. Mobilized Army Reserve TPU officers may not be reassigned between TPUs or to the IRR while mobilized.

b. Since warrant officers are mobilized and deployed by position requirements, eligible mobilized Army Reserve warrant officers will continue to be considered for promotion and, if selected, promoted in accordance with (IAW) reference 1b.

4. ADOS (title 10 USC, Section 12301(d)) officers.

a. Army Reserve officers/warrant officers performing ADOS will not be placed in the Active Army (AA), regardless of the duration of the ADOS duty. Army Reserve officers/warrant officers will move to the Active Duty List only if they apply and are approved for accession into the AA.

b. Army Reserve ADOS officers in the ranks of 1LT through LTC will be promoted IAW reference 1b. They must be assigned to a valid vacant position commensurate with the grade to which being promoted. Army Reserve ADOS officers who are on an approved mandatory promotion selection list will be promoted when reaching their maximum time in grade regardless of being assigned to a vacant position of the next higher grade and reassigned to the IRR, unless the officer has delayed or declined promotion in accordance with title 10 USC, Section 14312. Reassignment between TPUs while on ADOS is authorized with the gaining and losing commanders' concurrence.

c. Since warrant officers perform ADOS based on mission requirements, warrant officers will continue to be considered for promotion and, if selected, promoted IAW reference 1b.
